

PSYCHOLOGY MINOR

Program Description

The Psychology minor equips students with a robust foundation in scientific psychology and offers a range of elective courses for pursuing specific interests within the field. The curriculum encompasses foundational content in neurobehavioral research and its application to contemporary issues in psychological science. This minor would be valuable for students in diverse fields, including nursing, kinesiology, criminal justice, and the social sciences.

Requirements

Code	Title	Hours
PSYC 101	Intro to Psychological Science	3
PSYC 210	Statistics	3
PSYC 212	Experimental Psychology	4
PSYC Electives		6
PSYC Elective at 300+ level		3
Select one of the following:		3
PSYC 357	Personality Theory
PSYC 396	Tests and Measurements
PSYC 457	Cognition
PSYC 459	Behavioral Neuroscience
Total Hours		22